AFMAN 23-110, Volume 2, Part 2, Chapter 26, is supplemented as follows. A star (★) indicates changes since previous edition.

26.8.2. The War Readiness/Shelf-Life Manager reviews dated items.

26.26.2.2. The package list and logbook is used for short-term deployments.

★26.44.1. The Chief of Supply is responsible for storing and maintaining mobility bags. Security Forces (42 SFS) stores and maintains their own A and B-Bags and reports all assets through Base Supply Mobility Element. Units are responsible for maintaining and storing their own training gear.

★26.44.1.1. (Added) The Base Supply Mobility Element maintains gas masks in support of 42 ABW and all tenant organizations (with exception of 908 AW). Individuals who maintain custody of gas masks using AF Form 1297, Temporary Issue Receipt, are responsible for performing and documenting inspections on masks that fall within the inspection cycle while in their possession. Gas mask inspection and serviceability data are forwarded to the Base Supply Mobility Element no later than 10 days following the inspection due date.

★26.44.1.2. (Added) Base Supply Mobility Element will maintain all gas mask support kits in support of 42 ABW and all tenant organizations (with exception of 908 AW).

★26.44.1.3. (Added) All tenant organizations requiring weapons support kits for deployable weapons are required to contact CATM.

★26.44.2.2.2.1. (Added) Base Supply Mobility Element personnel are responsible for performing all management functions, as outlined in this section. A complete inventory of all bags and bag contents must be performed before and after deployment. Performs shelf life and lot inspections when identified by the Mobility Inventory Control Accountability System (MICAS).

Attachment 26F-1, Table 26F1.1. The wet weather poncho is issued to each organization with a current mobility tasking. The poncho is maintained as an integral part of the A-1 (carry-on/ditty) bag. Organizations are responsible for the funding, issue, inventory, maintenance, replacement, and serviceability of the poncho while in their possession.
